

"light" Ben Wooley Dec 2005

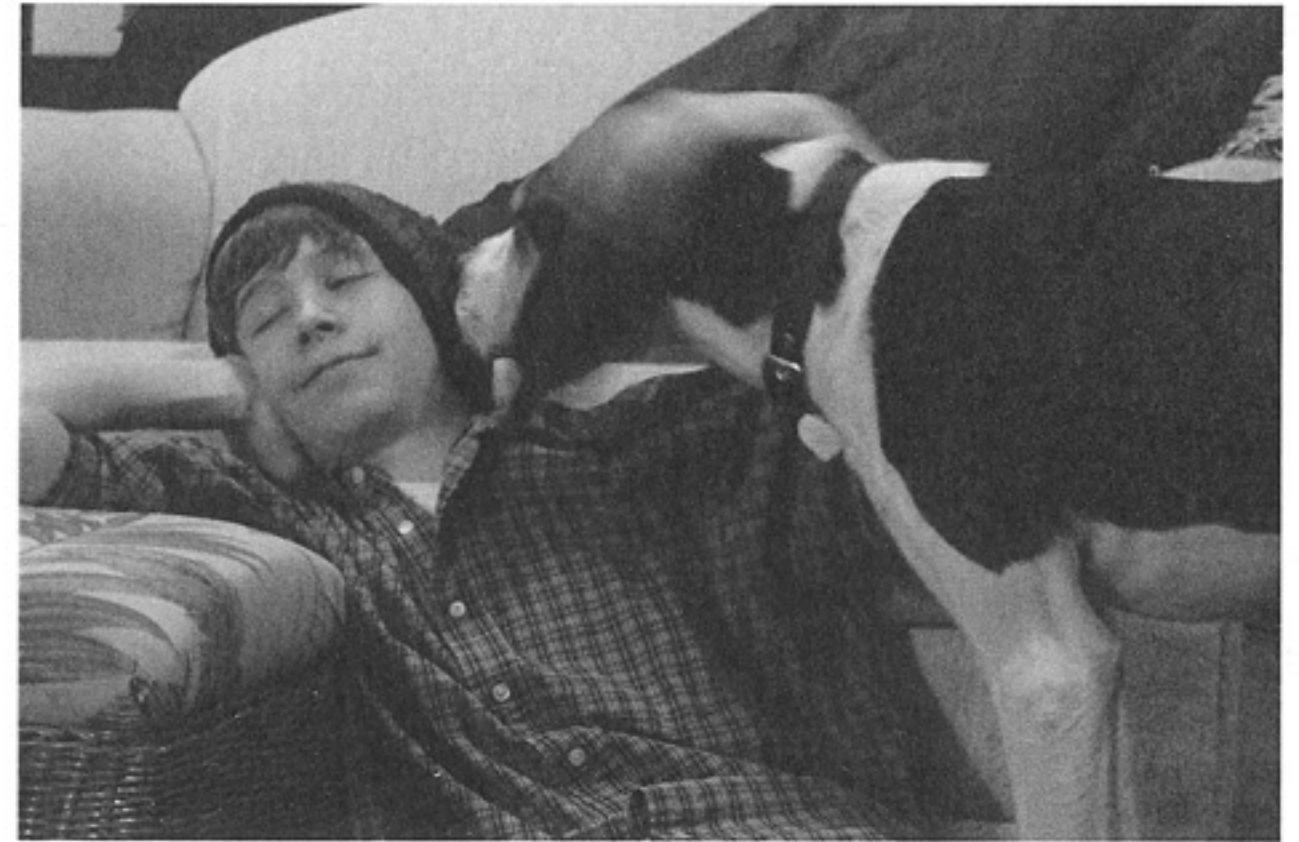

Last winter, Cyndie adopted a dog.
Which pretty much means I have a dog, too.

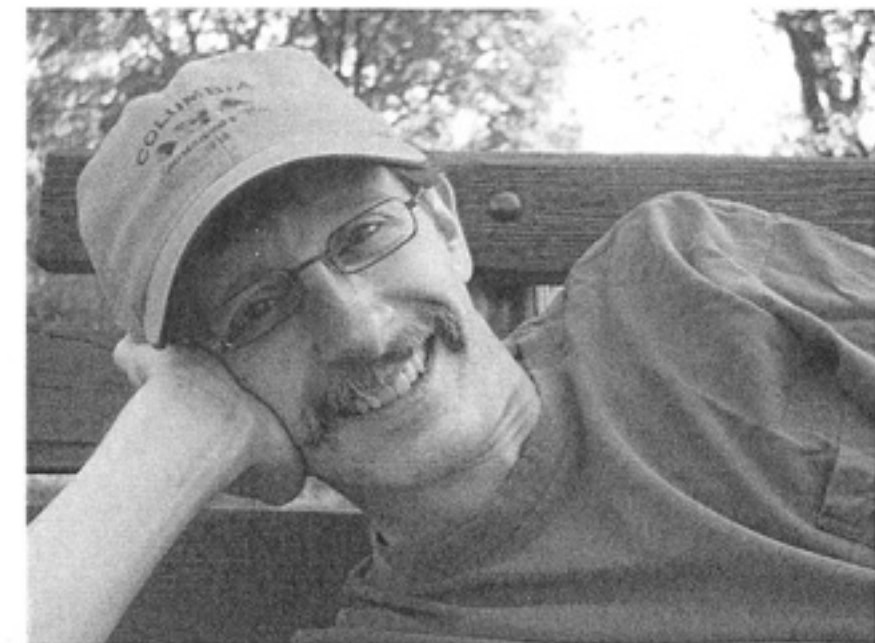

Duncan is a coonhound. His interests include sniffing the ground, chasing small furry animals, and drooling. He's our favorite dog.

After 15 years of unrelenting effort, Ben has finally succeeded in outgrowing me. Plus, I have to admit that he is way better at graffiti art than I'll ever be.

I take comfort in the fact that I can still beat him at ping pong.

Sometimes.

Ben in Rocky Mountain National Park during our 2nd annual summer road trip, August 2005