

Autumn on Powderhorn Lake

On September 5, 2009, eight years and eleven months after Cyndie first emailed me from Niles, Michigan, we were married in a small ceremony in our own back yard.

The weather was beautiful, as were the two dozen butterflies that Cyndie's daughter Emery released for the occasion.

Afterwards, we spent a week in Nova Scotia. We explored Halifax, hiked on Cape Breton Island, and saw whales, dolphins, moose, eagles, and the incredible tides of the Bay of Fundy.

Ben is working at Bruegger's, Cyndie is working at Cigna, I'm working at home, and married life is working out just fine.
